Mikhail Naimy, one of the creators of the modern Arabic literary tradition, was affected by several literary influences, including a Russian one. This article gives an example of Leo Tolstoy's impact on Naimy's Memoirs of a Vagrant Soul or The Pitted Face (1917), which repeats Tolstoy's contributions with variation. I discuss this in addition to the influence that Tolstoy exerted as a philosopher, social critic, and writer on Naimy.

The Book Of Mirdad Large Print 16pt. Mikhail Naimy, in a similar style to Gibran, unravels one layer after another, showing that the words of his message have descended from some mysterious source. The book is essentially a set of question and answer between Mirdad and his disciples, especially his chief disciple, Naronda.
