Most of annealed low carbon steel strips are tempered since they are too soft (HV<110) in annealed condition. Bending and deep drawing operations of soft annealed steel may cause formation of kinks (cross breaks) and stretcher strains, which are the result of localized stretching of the strip at low cold deformation beyond the yield point. Light tempering of annealed strip (non-kinking temper ...

A steam engine is a heat engine that performs mechanical work using steam as its working fluid. The steam engine uses the force produced by steam pressure to push a piston back and forth inside a cylinder. This pushing force is transformed, by a connecting rod and flywheel, into rotational force for work. The term "steam engine" is generally applied only to reciprocating engines as just ...
